JOHNEEN.

Sure he's five months old, an' he's two foot long,
Baby Johneen;
Watch yerself now, for he's terrible sthrong,
Baby Johneen.
An' his fists 'ill be up if ye make any slips,
He has finger-ends like the daisy-tips,
But he'll have ye attend to the words of his lips,
Will Johneen.

There' nobody can rightly tell the colour of his eyes,

This Johneen;

For they're partly o' the earth an' still they're partly o' the skies,

Like Johneen.

So far as he's thravelled he's been laughin' all the way,

For the little soul is quare an' wise, the little heart is gay;

An' he likes the merry daffodils, he thinks they'd do to play

With Johneen.

He'll sail a boat yet, if he only has his luck,
Young Johneen,
For he takes to the wather like any little duck,
Boy Johneen;
Sure them are the hands now to pull on a rope,
An' nate feet for walkin' the deck on a slope,
But the ship she must wait a wee while yet, I hope,
For Johneen.

Och, Johneen;

'Tis you that are the daisy, an' you that are the pet,
Wee Johneen.

Here's to your health, an' we'll dhrink it to-night.

Slainte gal, avic machree! live an' do right,
Slainte gal avourneen! may your days be bright,
Johneen!
